A Supper good evening

Onz day a yong lady was best friends

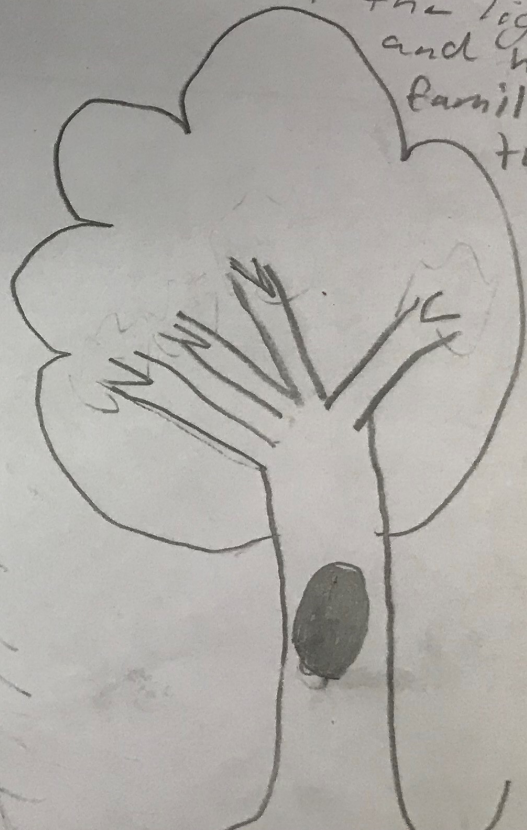

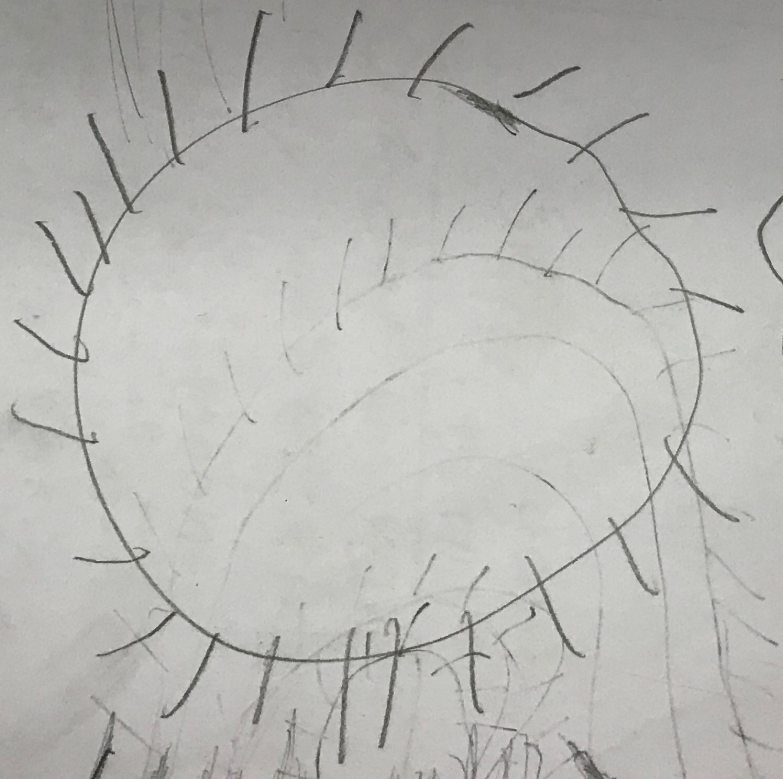

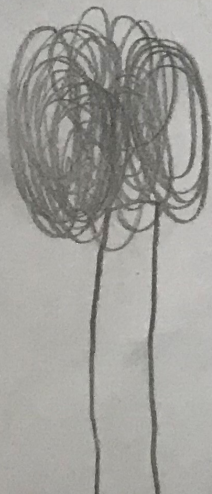

With the moon.
Every night she would be under the stars. Then she was thinking
why doesn't anyone
say good evening
when it is the evening.

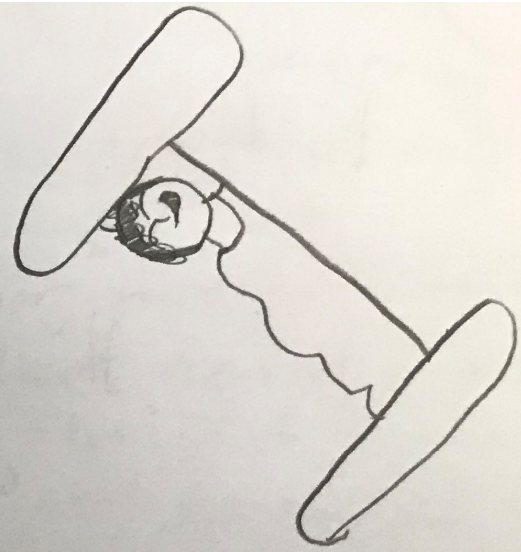

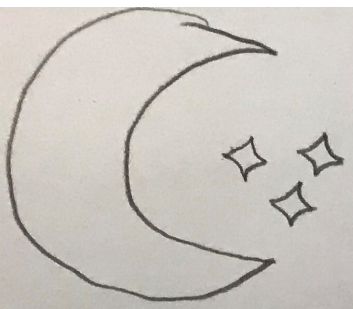

PEOPLE SHOULD
say in the

Good morning
pevehe vovna'e

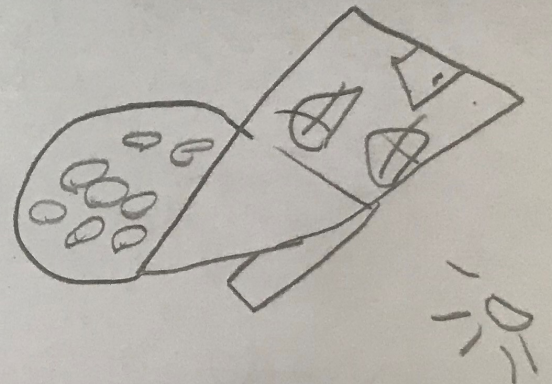

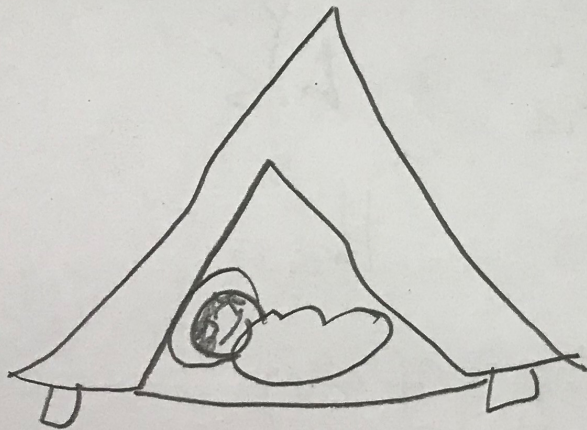

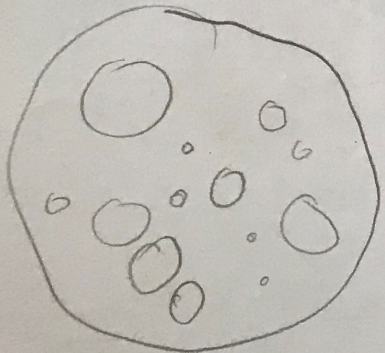

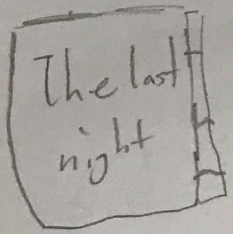

one morning
there was a girl
named lila and her mother call
her named lut
she didn't see her because

she is invisible
in the sun light
so lila turned off the light
and her family was
there
and it
was her birthday

good night

Once upon a time the first people to be on Earth they did not have a language so they started to saying random words. A few years later Peter and George made the ABC's. The ABC's were used and it was turned into a language. Over time different countries made their own language. And that is how all of the languages began. ~~And that is how all of the languages began.~~

See you again
